Dear Messrs Spungen and Walter,

I am delighted to invite both of you to speak and present at the United States Secret Service's Unity Day Celebration on July 27, 2011. Each year, federal agencies take time to acknowledge the contributions that various ethnic groups and people with disabilities have made to the American culture. In this inaugural event for the Secret Service, we will be hosting several workshops, speakers and static displays throughout the day in our Headquarters building.

Special Agents Brian Lambert and Lisa Olivieri have told me about your intimate experience and materials that relate to "Operation Bernhard", and I am very excited that you will be able to talk to us about it.

Thank you for your willingness to share your time and experiences, and I look forward to meeting you in the coming months.

Sincerely,
